Forget Not All His Benefits

Psalm 103:1-13 (KJV)

Scripture

Psalm 103:1-13

[1] A Psalm of David. Bless the LORD, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name. [2] Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: [3] Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; [4] Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies; [5] Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's. [6] The LORD executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed. [7] He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel. [8] The LORD is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy. [9] He will not always chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever. [10] He hath not dealt with us after our sins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities. [11] For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him. [12] As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us. [13] Like as a father pitieth his children, so the LORD pitieth them that fear him.

Outline

1. Stir up your soul to praise

Bless the LORD, O my _____.

Praise often begins as a _____, not a feeling.

Read: Psalm 103:1-2; Psalm 42:5; Psalm 146:1-2

2. Count his benefits

Forget not all his _____.

Praise grows when we remember _____ what God has done.

Read: Psalm 103:2-5; Psalm 116:12; Lamentations 3:22-23

3. Praise God for who he is

The LORD is merciful and _____.

As far as the east is from the _____, so far hath he removed our transgressions.

Read: Psalm 103:8-13; Exodus 34:6-7; Micah 7:18-19

Discussion questions

1. Why do you think David has to tell his own soul to praise?

2. Which of the benefits in verses 3-5 means most to you right now, and why?

3. What does "as far as the east is from the west" tell us about God's forgiveness?

4. How is praising God for who he is different from thanking him for what he has done?

This week

This week, keep a "benefits list." Each evening, write down three specific things God has done for you that day. On Sunday, read your list and pray Psalm 103:1-2 aloud.
